bpv Hügel nominated as Austrian Tax Firm of the Year for the International Tax Review's European Tax Awards

The prestigious European Tax Awards of the International Tax Review's take place annually and recognise the leading tax professionals around Europe. The firms are judged on key criteria such as size, innovation and complexity of their transactions. After being awarded in 2015 for the work on the BUWOG spin-off with the "European Capital Market Tax Deal of the Year" bpv Hügel is nominated for the "Austrian Tax Firm of the Year" for the third time in a row.

Vienna/Mödling, 01 March 2017. bpv Hügel is again shortlisted for the prestigious "Austrian Tax Firm of the Year" award of the International Tax Review's European Tax Awards.

The European Tax Awards take place annually and recognise the leading tax professionals around Europe. The firms are judged on key criteria such as size, innovation and complexity of their transactions. Together with bpv Hügel the tax practice of Deloitte, DLA Piper and Wolf Theiss are shortlisted. After being awarded in 2015 for the work on the BUWOG spin-off with the European Capital Market Tax Deal of the Year bpv Hügel is nominated for the award as Austrian Tax Firm of the Year the third time in a row.

"We are very pleased to have been recognised once again for the Austrian Tax Firm of the Year. This nomination proves the high ranking of our tax practice and confirms that our strategy to provide the complete range of tax services from advisory to compliance and litigation in all areas of tax, including VAT, is the right path for the future", comments Gerald Schachner, tax partner with bpv Hügel.
